P. 119: I

13.6.1911 S.M.

Dis: Good work carefully thought out,
 knowledge not sufficiently exact. 115.

Phys: A good paper, shows much common sense & practical wisdom, but the subject requires more definite study. 115.

Ed: A good practical paper but short,
 some particularly good points, as -
 the child & the minded boy. 110.

Nat: A good paper, shows intelligent interest but is defective as 118.
 regards knowledge.

Good & intelligent papers but they do not show enough definite study, but this is accounted for by the
 circumstances indicated.

6. 6. 1911 P. 1.

Dis.: Sound thought, but not much acquired knowledge. 50.

Phys.: Good so far, shows experience in soundness of sense but not much acquired knowledge. 80.

Educ.: The answers are good or suggest sound practice. 100.

Nature: Some very good work, but evidently time has failed to allow full study of the several subjects. 100.

Highly intelligent work, but the writer's knowledge of the several subjects is defective for the reasons indicated by letters.

 Ed: Excellent, very thoughtful & well-informed. 150.

Phys: An excellent practical paper, showing thorough knowledge of the subject handled. 150.

Nat: Excellent so far as it goes. 100.

An admirable set of papers, as regards knowledge of facts, grasp of ideas & common sense in the application of theories.

4.12.1911 Sci 2 &amp; 3

Div: An excellent paper, exceedingly thoughtful work. 150

Phys: A very good & unusually interesting paper. 150.

Psych: A quite delightful paper. Shows careful study & real insight. 150

NAT: LORE: A good paper, some of the answers are most interesting. 100.

An especially interesting set of papers.

9.12.1911 Sci 3 &amp; 4

6.6.1913 Sci 4.

Div: Excellent. Particularly thoughtful and well considered papers. 150

Phys: A v. good paper. Admirably clear. 125

Psych: A v. good and interesting paper. 125

Nat. Lore: An admirably thoughtful paper. 125.

Very thoughtful and intelligent work. The writer takes a broad view of the work of education. The answers are sometimes too much in the form of essays.
